

Disperse Fluid Retention and Bloating, Easily

What is WATERgo?

WATERgo is a combination of herbs and natural extracts to help improve organism's fluid balance.

Every cell in our body has water as its main component, but over time the mechanisms which control the fluid balance can get worn out or there can be imbalances like non-medical oedema, hormonal disturbances in menopausal women which can cause bloating, puffy legs, eyes or hands.

Strong pharmaceutical products can remove the water at a very fast pace and they are used in severe conditions or where the oedema is caused by serious health conditions (a weak heart, high blood pressure, kidney failure, etc.). However these can induce severe dehydration and organ damage.

For less severe conditions a natural herbal approach with a product like WATERgo is a much better option — WATERgo is based on harmless ingredients which will pose no risk for your kidneys, liver and with no risk of sudden severe dehydration.
